

Trainer Development Workshop for teaching staff at ANZPA training institutes Thursday 26 April – Sunday 29 April 2012

“This three-day residential training event is for the refinement and enlargement of your functioning as a trainer. I am preparing myself to work with you in several aspects. I see value in continuing the work of sustaining and enlarging your warm up at the beginning of a training session as well as critical moments during a session. I plan to work with respect to the theory and practice of supervision with individuals and in a training group. There will also be work done to refine your ability to integrate precise teaching with experiential work in a training group. So these are the three areas. I anticipate that we will together create stronger personal links and make a very good time in between the intensive work. There is great food at this place, great forest walks, and great coffee shops. I sure look forward to this event with my fellow Trainers, Educator and Practitioners, Trainers in Training and others of you teaching in our training institutes in Australia and New Zealand”. (Max Clayton).

- Leader Max Clayton is an experienced clinician, individual and group supervisor and trainer who has worked intensively in this field for many years. He has accrued significant skill and a depth of insight in teaching and training people in other cultures around the world. He is the author of several books on role training, role theory, group leadership and psychodrama. Max is a Psychodramatist, Trainer, Educator and Practitioner and a Distinguished Member of the Australian and New Zealand Psychodrama Association.
- Dates & Times Starts 3pm Thursday 26 April and finishes Sunday 29 April at 4pm.
- Venue Chestnut Hill Conference Lodge, St James Avenue (off Gleghorn Road), Kallista, Dandenong Ranges, Victoria 3791, Australia. This is about 1 hour’s drive from the city. The Melway Reference is: Map 75 K2. Telephone: (03) 9755 2145 Website: <http://www.chestnut-hill.com.au>
- Transport Train transport is available from Southern Cross and Flinders Street stations in the city centre to Belgrave Station in the Dandenong Ranges. (The journey takes about 1 hour 15 minutes). A pick up from Belgrave station can be organised for the short trip to the Lodge.
- Fee Includes all meals and accommodation. A few single rooms are available.
 $1075 (shared room)
 $1165 (single room)
- Enrolments Send your name and contact details to Jenny Hutt, jennyhutt@traininginpsychodrama.com.au along with your accommodation, dietary requirements and transport plans/needs. To discuss your enrolment by phone, call Jenny Hutt: (+61) 03 9489 5733.
- Deposit Enrolments are confirmed once a A$200 deposit has been paid. Payment can be made by direct deposit (please ask for our banking details) or by sending a cheque/postal order/bank draft payable to the Australian College of Psychodrama to PO Box 605, Northcote, Victoria 3070, Australia.